man im glad they fix alot of the bugs that legions of iron had but im dissapointed that there was no story to it such a pity legions of iron had a great story and i was hoping for a continuation but im saddend to say there wasnt (cry's) personal rating 3/10. Quite irritating sound-related crashes.. The game is fun has heck but few problems with the game is not enough ships no fast forward 20% of the ships are broke as♥♥♥♥♥♥like try using the supply ship see how fast your game crashes :P theres alot of problems like some maps will crash if you cap a planet and theres planets thats uncapable which sucks! like huge ones...uncapable and 10%? give or take planets are broke meaning you cap it you crash theres alot of problems but well worth it! i even noticed the fighters are sooooo much better then the rest lol due to the damage over time and their dodge rates cuz they move around and they dodge everything BUT rockets rockets are hate seekers so be warned but other then that i give it a 8/10. this game does not work. Too buggy, couldn't get it work for very long finally removed it from my active list. If you like sins of solar empire and have good friends to play it with its worth the price !. I played Haegemonia the first time several years ago when it first came out. For the time, it had fantastic graphics and the gameplay combined real time strategy and 4X in a way that I haven't seen since, but wish I had. The graphics have pretty much held up- they are comparable to early PS3 or XBOX 360 titles.

The problem is that within an hour of launching the game, it crashes. The Windows popup blames the game's sound files. Once it crashes on you, it'll crash within five minutes of launch each time.

If the game were stable and you could run it, I'd strongly suggest it to all strategy fans. However, the as- is version simply doesn't run. Keep looking.. its my favorite game tho...

i give down thumb coz cant do co-op/MP with my friend...

trying many ways even using hamachi, still cant do.. Does not work on Windows 10. No support for this problem from the game company.. Randomly bombs on sound error....
